Offenders Sentenced for Aiding an Offender, Accomplice After the Fact: 2001-2010

The table below lists offenders¹ who were sentenced between 2001 and 2010, with “Aiding an Offender, Accomplice after the Fact” under Minn. Stat. § 609.495, subd.3 as the most serious offense sentenced. Because the penalty for this offense is dependent on the crime the offender is alleged to have aided, this is an unranked offense, and the judge must assign a severity level prior to pronouncing sentence. A “0” in the column labeled “Pronounced Sentence” indicates the offender received a stay of imposition. There were 28 cases sentenced under this statute in 2010. There has been an average of 23 cases per year since 2001.

Note: 12¹=12 months and 1 day.

Offenders sentenced within the same county in a one-month period are generally counted only once, based on their most serious offense.
